Chosen as Diamond Partner by developers of OnBase®

May 1, 2006 – PROFORMANCE, a full-service provider of integrated document management solutions, was named by Hyland Software, Inc., developer of the OnBase® enterprise content management (ECM) software suite, as a Diamond Authorized OnBase Solution Provider. PROFORMANCE was recognized at the 2006 Team OnBase Conference in Phoenix, has been an Authorized OnBase Solution Provider for more ten years and is a proud member of the Community of OnBase Professionals.

Criteria to be awarded Diamond level partnership include retention of more than 95% of customers on maintenance, providing direct support to more than 20 installed solutions, maintaining a minimum of two certified OnBase installers over the previous 12 months and significant participation in the OnBase Developer Conference and the annual Team OnBase Conference.

“PROFORMANCE is again one of our most valued resellers, as they have been for several years,” says Bill Priemer, Hyland’s chief operating officer. “Our top partners take the time to understand the real needs of a user’s business before they propose a solution. PROFORMANCE exemplifies these values, and the proof is in their multiple, satisfied customers. PROFORMANCE knows the value they can bring to users and have made the effort to dedicate resources and people to the continued sales, implementation and maintenance of OnBase solutions.”

The Authorized OnBase Solution Provider program is comprised of companies that have proven capabilities in analyzing, designing and implementing customer-centric, ECM solutions. These partners are the leaders in the Community of OnBase Professionals.

To support the proper selling, installation and training of OnBase solutions, Hyland Software instituted Team OnBase. Team OnBase is comprised of consulting firms, hardware and software vendors, systems integrators and value-added resellers collaborating to consistently deliver streamlined work processes, improved business decisions and increased customer satisfaction.

Says Priemer, “This program is designed to ensure that our users receive the full resources and expertise of each Team OnBase member. In this way we can provide our customers the highest level of support and services they both expect and deserve. And, like all true partnerships, the program is based upon a mutual commitment to certain goals and responsibilities. PROFORMANCE, with its commitment to ECM and superior customer service, embodies the program perfectly.”
